

Thank you for your download!

YOUR FREE RESOURCE

is a week of 5-Minute Journal Prompts

- Build student confidence
- Increase stamina for writing
- Make personal connections
- Develop classroom community

5-MINUTE JOURNAL PROMPTS SET

Looking for daily journal writing prompts for your middle school students? These journal prompts have students respond to a wide variety of topics and build confidence, endurance, creativity, and enthusiasm for daily writing. Designed to be completed in five minutes or less, these journal prompts are perfect for middle school bell ringers or exit tickets.

☒ Daily Journal Prompts for the whole school year!

1. 180 Daily Journal Writing Prompts ready-to-use as a .pdf slideshow
2. Editable prompts in PowerPoint (requires download of three free fonts)
3. Personal Narrative essay topic and rubric (.doc)
4. Teacher's Guide

Other Resources for Classroom Community

Write three facts about yourself.

GO FURTHER:

How do these things make you uniquely “you”?

Write about one
“high” and one
“low” moment
from this week.

2

List five things
you're good at.

GO FURTHER:

How did you get to be so good at these things?

3

Describe your first memory.

GO FURTHER:

What do you remember being able to see, smell, hear, touch, and taste?

4

PHOTO RESPONSE

5